He says that apart from Babinski s sign and the paradoxical reflex, a certain apparently abnormal condition of any of the other reflexes by itself does not necessarily imply an organic disease of the nervous system. For example, an increased or diminished knee-jerk alone will not determine the diagnosis. A patient free from all other possible symptoms has no tabs, if there is only a markedly diminished knee-jerk or even absence of it. It is true that in 99 per cent of normal cases the knee-jerk is never absent; nevertheless, Gordon has observed individuals in whom the knee-jerk could not be elicited even with Jendrassik s method. A much diminished knee-jerk in normal persons is not so rare as absence of it. However, such cases should be looked on with suspicion and thoroughly investigated. The same remarks are applicable to exaggerated...
